Andrew V. Jablon, a partner through his professional corporation at Resch Polster & Berger, has represented a wide array of clients for almost twenty years.

Mr. Jablon specializes in business litigation, with an emphasis on intellectual property matters and contractual disputes. Moreover, having developed an expertise in the legal issues facing fashion and apparel clients, Mr. Jablon has represented individuals and entities at all levels in the apparel industry. His experience working with fabric mills, printers, converters, importers, manufacturers, factors, and major national retail chains enables him to quickly analyze a client's problem and develop an aggressive, yet cost-effective, litigation strategy. Additionally, as an experienced litigator, Mr. Jablon is able to identify issues and provide counseling to clients to help them avoid becoming embroiled in future litigation.

Mr. Jablon received his J.D., cum laude, from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1998. He earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Politics, cum laude, from Occidental College in 1995. He was admitted to the State Bar of California in 1998, and is a member of the bars of the United States District Court, Central, Northern, Eastern and Southern Districts of California, and the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mr. Jablon has published articles on computer law and on the admissibility of electronic mail in Federal Courts. Twelfth Survey of White Collar Crimes: Computer Crimes, 34 Amer. Crim. L. Rev. 409; and "God Mail": Authentication and Admissibility of Electronic Mail in Federal Courts, 34 Amer. Crim. L. Rev. 1387.

Mr. Jablon was named a "Rising Star" by California Super Lawyers magazine in 2011, 2012 and 2013, recognizing him as in the top 2.5 percent of attorneys under 40 in Southern California.
